

Evaluation!

I tested the eportfolio by reading through what Jess had written about each page and making sure that each hyperlink works and goes to the right place. All the links go to the right page that it should go to. On a few pages Jess has made a couple of spelling mistakes and typing errors in most of the paragraphs, such as missing out the 's' in success, or using the wrong word like emails instead of emailed. She will need to re-read what she has typed and edit the mistakes that she had made.

I like the colours on Jess's eportfolio. They are bright and simple which make it rather effective. It stands out so it would catch the student's eye when they come across it. The layout of the page is simple as well which is good as it isn't crazy and over the top which could be a bit too much some times. I also like the logo that she has. It is rather artist and suitable for this project. It is also in colours that both females and males would like.

I think that Jess could improve her eportfolio by maybe filling in the background so it fills the page up more and looks complete. Also by checking her spelling and typing mistakes so it is fully completed properly.

Self Evaluation!

I read through what vicky has wrote about my eportfolio and changed it accordingly.

One thing I did was changed my spelling using spell check as that was a major factor in the things I had to improve.

I also added a background colour using properties fill colour to make it look more complete.
