I added a heading which was sensible and to the point. I changed it from report to playlist.

My layout is consistant between both playlists.

I included the dancers name on the playlist to show who's dance o'meter results were used to create

Dark font and pale background make it easy to read all the information on the playlist.

I also included the chosen charity so we know which charity the dancer wants to support.

I used my logo as a relevent image because the dancer in the logo is relevent to the project.

My selection of tracks on each playlist last no more than 15 minutes according to the play times at the bottom.

All unnecessary data has been ommitted and only relevent data has been used.

I added extra information to my reports. This information included a name, the charity which was chosen and a time slot in which the play list will be played. I also changed my page layout to landscape so it looked more interesting and appealing on the page. I have used My logo as the relevent picture as it has a picture of a dancer in it which relates to the project based around dancing.
