My title is bold to grab the user's attention.

To make it look better, I haven't added boxes as that would make it look worse.

I have omitted unnecessary information fields.

I have included personal information that my test buddy has entered in other worksheets.

I have made it so all my text contrasts the background behind it to make it look attractive.

I have included a relevant image to make it more attractive.

I have included a border around my logo to make it more exciting.

Underlining, bolding and italics made the titles more aesthetically pleasing.

I have used a formula to display the total playlength as it is helpful for my target user.
